Income Verification:

If income verification is being requested, you will need to generate a salary key.

1. To request a salary key for whoever is requesting your income verification, click Grant Access To Salary Info and follow the instructions.

This report will contain your pay details and history with Sodexo

- A salary key gives credentialed verifiers a numeric code that grants them one-time access to your income information.
- Verifiers can only access your income and employment information if they have a permissible purpose.
- When a verifier needs a salary key, you can print it or email it with instructions through The Work Number.
